

Sunday Service: Freedom from Mindsets

5th October 2014

The Word:

- Many things are out of our control. We need to learn to surrender to God in all areas
- Everything about God is supernatural, He makes the impossible take place
- When the mind is not renewed in the things of God, we become yoked to thoughts, and what we think is what we become
- As Christians, we can only live in the revelation we have received
- We should always expect to receive something from God when we come into His presence. Sometime we don't receive because we don't expect
- In depression, the mind is yoked to thoughts where there has been no revelation from God
- The purpose of revelation is that we might experience God's freedom
- God is love. The more His love comes into our hearts, the greater level of surrender we will live in
- The intention of God is to shift our mentalities, remove mind sets, and move us out of religion. He wants to move the heart
- A mind set is an established pattern of thought that has existed a long time. It limits and restricts us
- Many mind sets are a result of the environment and culture we've been brought up in
- The enemy takes a person captive in the mind. If he has the mind, he has the person
- We have to learn to take dominion and authority and to refute every accusing tongue of the enemy
- God not only wants the heart, he wants the mind
- We become bound when we try to produce what only God can produce in us
- We have to surrender to God in our thinking and thought patterns
- Because God loves us, He gives us His mind
